The entry at 64-Across was OLOGIES. Long time meta solvers know that constructors often put hints in the last across entry, and that was exactly what I had done here. (If you're new to metas, take note!) The title, "Complete All Required Fields" was referring to fields of science, also known as OLOGIES, since many fields of science end in -ology. If you took the start of each of the theme entries, you could add -OLOGY onto it to make a field of science: PLUMOLOGY, ZOOLOGY, COSMOLOGY, MIXOLOGY, and ENTOMOLOGY. In grid order those are the scientific studies of Features, Animals, the Universe, Cocktails, and Insects, and taking the first letters of each of those spelled FAUCI, who is indeed a famous scientist and our meta answer.
